PREFACE

The Criminal Code Reform Commission (CCRC) submits this quarterly report summarizing its recent activities, as required by statute.¹ This report concerns the fourth quarter of FY 2019, from July 1, 2019, through September 30, 2019. The CCRC's last quarterly report, for the third quarter of FY 2019, was submitted to the Council August 14, 2019.

CCRC STATUTORY AUTHORITY

The CCRC began operation as a new, independent District agency on October 1, 2016, pursuant to the Council of the District of Columbia's Fiscal Year 2017 Budget Support Act of 2016. The CCRC is tasked with submitting to the Mayor and the Council comprehensive criminal code reform recommendations to revise the language of the District's criminal statutes within specified parameters.² In preparing these reform recommendations, the CCRC is required to consult with a Code Revision Advisory Group (Advisory Group), a statutorily designated group of stakeholders who review and provide information and suggestions on proposals prepared by the CCRC. The Advisory Group consists of 5 voting members and 2 nonvoting members.³ Approval by a majority of the Advisory Group is required for final recommendations to be submitted to the Council and the Mayor.⁴ In preparing its reform recommendations, the CCRC also reviews criminal code reforms in other jurisdictions, changes to criminal offenses

² The CCRC's mandate in D.C. Code § 3-152(a) states:

[T]he Commission shall submit to the Mayor and the Council comprehensive criminal code reform recommendations that revise the language of the District's criminal statutes to: (1) Use clear and plain language; (2) Apply consistent, clearly articulated definitions; (3) Describe all elements, including mental states, that must be proven; (4) Reduce unnecessary overlap and gaps between criminal offenses; (5) Eliminate archaic and unused offenses; (6) Adjust penalties, fines, and the gradation of offenses to provide for proportionate penalties; (7) Organize existing criminal statutes in a logical order; (8) Identify any crimes defined in common law that should be codified, and propose recommended language for codification, as appropriate; (9) Identify criminal statutes that have been held to be unconstitutional and recommend their removal or amendment; (10) Propose such other amendments as the Commission believes are necessary; and (11) Enable the adoption of Title 22 as an enacted title of the District of Columbia Official Code.

³ The current voting members of the Advisory Group are: Don Braman, Associate Professor of Law, The George Washington University Law School (Council Appointee); Paul Butler, Professor of Law, Georgetown University Law Center (Council Appointee); Renata Kendrick Cooper, Special Counsel for Policy and Legislative Affairs, United States Attorney's Office for the District of Columbia (Designee of the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia); Laura Hankins, General Counsel, Public Defender Service for the District of Columbia (Designee of the Director of the Public Defender Service for the District of Columbia); and Dave Rosenthal, Senior Assistant Attorney General, Office of the Attorney General for the District of Columbia (Designee of the Attorney General for the District of Columbia). The current non-voting members of the Advisory Group are: Kevin Whitfield, Policy Advisor, Committee on the Judiciary and Public Safety (Designee of the Chairperson of the Council Committee on the Judiciary and Public Safety); and Helder Gil, Legislative and Policy Advisor, Office of the City Administrator (Designee of the Deputy Mayor for Public Safety and Justice).

NOTABLE CCRC ACTIVITIES JULY– SEPTEMBER 2019

Development of Reform Recommendations

The CCRC's work to develop recommendations for reform of District criminal statutes is guided by a general Work Plan and Schedule that was first provided to the Council on February 9, 2017, as part of the agency's 2016 Annual Report. The Work Plan and Schedule divides the development of code reform recommendations under the CCRC's statutory mandate into four Phases. The CCRC's activities during the fourth quarter of FY 2019 continued its work on reform recommendations for specific offenses (Phase 3) and at the staff level began development of penalty recommendations (Phase 4) of the Work Plan and Schedule.

As part of Phase 3, the CCRC continued its development of reform recommendations to the Council and Mayor that concern certain common and serious offenses. Specifically, in the fourth quarter, CCRC staff delivered to its Advisory Group for comment four new draft reports as part of Phase 3, with recommendations as follows:

- In its First Draft of Report #37, Controlled Substance and Related Provisions, submitted for Advisory Group review on July 12, 2019, the CCRC presented draft recommendations for reform of possession, possession with intent to distribute, and distribution of controlled substances offenses. These offenses, providing liability for both controlled substances and counterfeit controlled substances, form the core of drug crimes in the District. The report also included recommendations regarding the District's drug paraphernalia statute. The CCRC's most significant draft recommendations would add additional gradations to drug possession, possession with intent to distribute and distribution offenses based on the type of drug and weight. Possession of drug paraphernalia for personal use (but not commercial sale or manufacturing) is also recommended for decriminalization in the draft report.
- In its First Draft of Report #38, Enlistment of Minors & Maintaining Location to Distribute or Manufacture Controlled Substances, submitted for Advisory Group review on July 12, 2019, the CCRC presented recommendations for repeal of two current District statutes. Repeal of these statutes may have little or no effect on criminal liability as the conduct described in the statutes appears already appears to be proscribed under other statutes.
- In its First Draft of Report #39, Weapon Offenses and Related Provisions, submitted for Advisory Group review on August 5, 2019, the CCRC presented draft recommendations for reform of over 25 statutory sections covering a wide range of weapons-related crimes. Although the CCRC has already drafted recommendations concerning increased penalties for the use of firearms or dangerous weapons in the commission of specific violent crimes, this draft report addresses all other weapon-related crimes that are currently charged in the District. Among the CCRC's draft recommendations is a limitation on "felon in possession" liability for having a prior conviction for a nonviolent offense when the predicate offense occurred over ten years ago (compared to there being no time limit under current law for drug or other non-violent felony convictions).

- In its First Draft of Report #40, Self-Defense Sprays, submitted for Advisory Group review on August 5, 2019, the CCRC presented its draft recommendation for repeal and decriminalization of possession of a self-defense spray (e.g. pepper spray). Under the CCRC's recommendations, harmful uses of a self-defense spray would remain criminal even without a separate offense penalizing possession of such a spray.

In the fourth quarter, the CCRC held two meetings with its Advisory Group, on July 31 and September 4. The July meeting discussed feedback from the Advisory Group on the draft recommendations previously circulated in the First Draft of Report #36, Cumulative Update to Chapters 3, 7 and the Special Part of the Revised Criminal Code. Additional discussion of controlled substance and weapon offense draft recommendations in Reports #37-40 was held at both the July and September meetings.

In the fourth quarter, staff also began work in earnest on the development of penalty recommendations to be released in late 2019. Related to this work, the CCRC released Advisory Group Memo #25, Second Look and Related Provisions in Other Jurisdictions. The memo does not contain specific recommendations regarding the District's Second Look provision. However, the provision may be the subject of a future Commission recommendation after the agency has examined penalty proportionality more. Given the current legislative and public attention to the District's second look provision, the Commission shared in this memo the background information that it has collected on second look and related provisions in other jurisdictions.

When finalized, the CCRC recommendations developed in Phase 3 of the Work Plan will be combined with other work in Phase 2 (recommendations for codification of General Provisions) and Phase 4 (penalty recommendations), forming a single, cohesive set of reform recommendations for District crimes in a new, enacted Title 22. The combined, final reform recommendations will be presented in the CCRC's final report to the Council and Mayor by the agency's statutory deadline.⁶

Agency Administration & Other Activities

Staffing. In July, the agency's longtime senior attorney-advisor Michael Serota resigned from the agency to take a position as a Visiting Assistant Professor at the Arizona State University Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law, and an Associate Deputy Director at the Academy for Justice. Mr. Serota was the lead attorney for much of the agency's work on recommendations for general provisions and his absence will be missed. In August, the agency welcomed onto its staff Mr. Nathaniel Wenstrup who relocated to Washington D.C. from his position as a trial attorney with the Federal Defenders for the Middle District of Alabama. The CCRC also appreciated the summer legal research support of two legal interns, from The George Washington Law School and the University of California, Berkeley School of Law.

⁶ Council budget legislation for FY 20 recently extended the CCRC's statutory funding, authorization, and deadline one year, to September 30, 2020.

Data. In the fourth quarter, agency staff worked with a vendor to administer several web-based public opinion surveys of District voters' perceptions of the relative severity of various types of criminal conduct. The design of these surveys followed early surveys developed by the CCRC in FY 2019 in concert with volunteer graduate students at The George Washington University Trachtenberg School of Public Policy and Public Administration. The survey, modeled on prior surveys conducted of Pennsylvania and New Jersey citizens, will help guide the agency's recommendations about penalty proportionality. The CCRC also worked with a vendor to perform analysis of D.C. Superior Court data to inform the CCRC's recommendations as to penalties for revised offenses.

Planning. In the fourth quarter, the agency began work on an updated work sequence given the agency's extension through September 30, 2020. The work sequence is attached as an appendix to this quarterly report.

CONCLUSION

The CCRC's code reform work in the fourth quarter of FY 2019 focused primarily on preparation, submission, and preliminary discussion of recommendations for revision of District weapon and controlled substance offenses. Staff issued four new draft reports to the Advisory Group containing its new and updated recommendations, covering dozens of current District statutes. The Advisory Group met two times during the fourth quarter, July 31 and September 4, 2019 to discuss these new draft recommendations, and previously circulated draft recommendations. The agency had turnover of one staff position and worked with a vendor to administer several web-based public opinion surveys of District voters' perceptions of the relative severity of various types of criminal conduct.

As part of the agency's planning for FY 2020, a new work sequence was created to prioritize the development of recommendations for the most common and serious offenses. The work sequence is attached as an appendix to this quarterly report.

All agency draft recommendations, as well as minutes for the agency's Advisory Group meetings are available on the CCRC website at www.ccrcc.dc.gov. For additional details or questions about the CCRC's activities or operation, please contact the agency's Executive Director, Richard Schmechel.

CCRC Planned Work Sequence for FY 20 & FY 21

This “CCRC Planned Work Sequence for FY 20 & FY 21,” (Work Sequence) describes the planned statutory sections for which the CCRC plans to issue reform recommendations, and the order of such work. The work sequence would provide guidance through April 1, 2021, should the agency’s sunset be extended to that date. Without an extension, the sequence of work would remain the same with a September 30, 2020 sunset date. However, the FY 20 progress on that sequence would be significantly diminished.⁷

As detailed in the agency Work Sequence, the CCRC is on track to issue reform recommendations for hundreds of statutory provisions, covering nearly all of the most serious and commonly prosecuted District offenses (categorized as tiers 1-4 in the Work Sequence) and their penalties. The offenses listed in tiers 1-3 would account for approximately 93-97% of adult Superior Court criminal convictions in recent years. The offenses listed in tiers 1-4 (assuming work continues through April 1, 2021) would account for approximately 95-99% of adult Superior Court criminal convictions in recent years. As detailed, there are many District criminal statutes (categorized as tier “5” in the work sequence) for which the agency does not expect to develop reform recommendations, even by an April 1, 2021 sunset date. However, most of these remaining offenses are misdemeanors that are rarely charged and concern regulatory matters.

In addition to the revision of existing District criminal statutes described in the Work Sequence, the CCRC plans to issue recommendations that will codify in statute general defenses (e.g., self-defense) for the first time in the District. Legislative codification of general criminal defenses will provide clarity, consistency, and democratic confidence in the scope and meaning of these defenses, rather than relying solely on judicial opinions to establish criminal defenses as in the District. The CCRC in FY 20 plans to develop recommendations for codification and an accompanying legal commentary regarding at least seven general justification defenses that are codified in most other jurisdictions nationally, including: Choice of Evils; Execution of Public Duty; Law Enforcement Authority; Special Responsibility for Care, Discipline, or Safety Defense (parents, custodians, caretakers, and emergency medical personnel); Effective Consent Defense; Defense of Person; and Defense of Property. Time permitting, with an extension in FY 21, the CCRC will also develop recommendations for codification and accompanying commentary regarding excuse defenses, including Duress and Diminished Capacity.

This planned work sequence is subject to change based on changes in agency staffing, feedback from the Council and Mayor about the overall timeline for the CCRC’s work, court decisions, and efficiencies in developing recommendations for offenses in tandem.

⁷ Significant staff resignations in the months prior to the agency sunset, whenever that is set, are expected. Loss of current staff would significantly undermine the agency’s capabilities due to the specialized nature of the work, the very small staff, and time to train up new staff. Consequently, while a 6-month extension in FY 21 would allow the agency to develop several new criminal code reform recommendations and provide for an orderly drawdown of operations, a major benefit of a 6-month extension in FY 21 is that the agency would be able to retain staffing and continue full activities through FY 20. Full operation through FY 20 would allow the agency to develop criminal code reform recommendations for the Mayor and Council on many critical matters, including obstruction of justice and public corruption offenses and codification of self-defense provisions.
